By the Way . . . Release of the State Budget Proposal Will Not Be Delayed

Our office has received numerous phone calls asking if the official release of the State Budget has been delayed past the statutory deadline of January 10, 2009. The quick answer is no. The Governor's Budget Proposal will be in print on Friday, January 9, within the current statutory timeline. What has caused some confusion was the Governor's announcement that his State-of-the-State Address will take place the week following the release of his 2009-10 Budget Proposal. Normally, Governors give their State-of-the-State Address prior to the official release of their January Budget Proposal. Our Governor's Budget workshop scheduled for January 12, 2009, at the Sacramento Convention Center and January 13 at the Long Beach Convention Center will be presented as planned with the best detailed, up-to-date information on both the 2008-09 Special Session and the Governor's Budget Proposal for 2009-10.

We look forward to seeing you there!
